Price:	$ 25.00 (Training Center security code required)
Product Supersedes another?	No
Brief Description:	This course provides a foundation for teaching and facilitating regardless of an instructor candidate's area of specialization. For optimal flexibility, the course can be delivered in 3 ways: online through the Internet, or on a CD-ROM for self-directed learning, or in a classroom setting. Continuing education credit is available to those who take the course online. The course workbook includes a voucher with a unique key to access the course online. It also includes the course CD-ROM, which allows the student access to review the course concepts anywhere and at anytime. The course is based on the 1993 International Board of Standards for Training, Performance, and Instruction (IBSTPI)—specifically the standards for Instructors—that were updated in 2004. The course was created using an adult learning model where users view a scenario, compare criteria established for effective instruction, and determine which skills need to be enhanced to make the instructor truly effective.
Purpose/Intended Audience:	This course is a prerequisite for all new instructor candidates and for instructors adding other disciplines to their teaching credentials (BLS HCP, Heartsaver, ACLS, PALS). This course is a requirement for all AHA National and Regional Faculty. Additionally, current AHA instructors and others may take this course to enhance their teaching skills.
